The Seventh Sunday of Pentecost

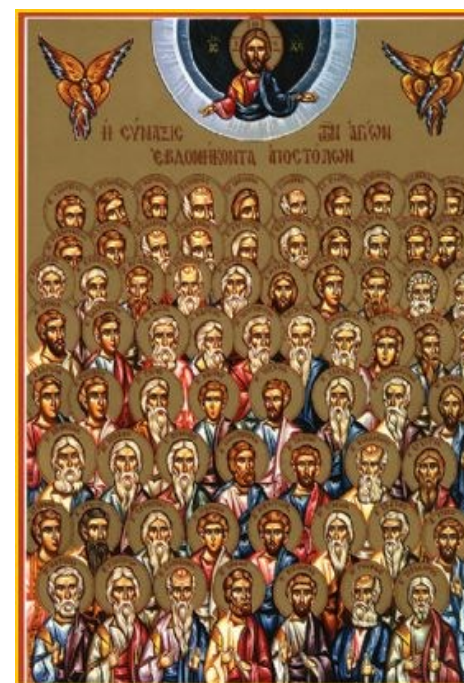

The Holy Gospel of Jesus Christ according to Saint Luke 10:1-7

After this the Lord appointed seventy others and sent them on ahead of him in pairs to every town and place where he himself intended to go.

He said to them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the laborer's are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out laborer's into his harvest. Go on your way. See, I am sending you out like lambs into the midst of wolves.

Carry no purse, no bag, no sandals; and greet no one on the road. Whatever house you enter, first say, "Peace to this house!" And if anyone is there who shares in peace, your peace will rest on that person; but if not, it will return to you.

Remain in the same house, eating and drinking whatever they provide, for the laborer deserves to be paid. Do not move about from house to house.

The list of sponsors and raffle ticket purchases will be updated weekly. A final list of supporters will be printed in the bulletin after the festival.

Statutes of the Eparchy of Saint Maron of Brooklyn
Promulgated by Bishop Gregory on Pentecost Sunday

For the sake of clarity, uniformity, and impartiality, the Statutes of the Eparchy of Saint Maron of Brooklyn have been formulated to guide the clergy, religious, and laity, in our Eparchial mission of sanctifying, teaching, and governing the Christian faithful in our Eparchy. These Statutes have been revised and reformulated based upon the precepts of the Holy Scriptures, and the norms established by the Holy See, the Maronite Church, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, and prior Eparchial legislation. Also considered, were the customs of our Church in the United States and, perhaps most importantly, years of real pastoral experience.

Please take particular note of Statue 93 on page 13 of the report:
"Eulogies by the laity may be given at the Wake, the cemetery, or the mercy meal. In the church, however, only the priest or deacon may deliver a eulogy which may be incorporated into his homily. No eulogy is to be given by the laity in the church"

The Statues will be available on our website for you to download and read. Call the pastor with any questions.
